LAST WEEK'S PROGRAM

Kay Curtis welcomed everyone to the 8th Annual Dr. Clare R. MacLeod Secondary School Volunteer Awards. She reminded us that this program was the brain-child of Maureen Lucas. Kay was assisted by one of our exchange students, Yanik Fuchs, who did a great job on very short notice.

Director of Education, Windsor-Essex Catholic District School Board, Joseph Berthiaume, congratulated Rotary on its successful Rotary World Peace Summit. He spoke of the requirements to complete the Ontario Secondary School Diploma, one of which is community involvement. He thanked all the students for making a difference and Rotary for being world leaders in volunteerism. It was a 'WOW' moment when it was announced that St. Clair College and the University of Windsor both had Education bursaries to offer.

Kudos to Nancy Leavoy and the Youth Services committee; and a special mention to Walter Willms for being the link and the continuity through all the years that this event has taken place.

LAST WEEK'S ANNOUNCEMENTS

1. President Shari congratulated the ten local Rotary clubs who were recipients of the Herb Gray Harmony Award.

Walter: On behalf of St. Joe's staff and students, let me thank you and the Rotary Club for the wonderful work you do to recognize the spirit of volunteerism in our young people. Ruia Rozoky, this year's winner from St. Joe's, has been showing her plaque to teachers and friends all day. It's hard to describe the positive impact this public recognition has had on this shy young lady. Thank you again for all you do.

Carol Morga, Guidance Counsellor, St. Josephs High School

Thanks, Walter: I was tremendously impressed by the ceremony and buoyed by the recognition that there are so many wonderful young people poised to become the new leaders of our community. A special tip of the hat to Rotary for a fabulous initiative and great results. We will welcome any of that group of students who wants to come to the University because they already know how to succeed.

Dr. Ross Paul, President, University of Windsor
